Polite

Dickson Taekwondo, LLC

– Showing correct social skills such as consideration, tact, respect or courtesy.

By the time you were three, you probably had learned to say please and thank you. These words were the beginning of your parents teaching you to be polite.

As you get older, you will learn more ways to be polite. Being polite to your teachers and parents is one way of showing respect. Being polite to your friends shows them you want to stay friends. People remember polite people and want to be around them more than rude people. Martial arts classes are a great place to learn how to be polite.

Example: When I am polite to others, they are polite to me.

Joke:

Knock, knock.

Who's there?

Theodore.

Theodore who?

Theodore is stuck and it won't open!

Father's Day

Children honor their fathers or other important men in their lives on Father's Day which is celebrated on the third Sunday in June. If your father is not already a student at Dickson Taekwondo we will give him the month of June free for a gift!

Word to Remember

Word to remember: Bones —

There are 206 bones in the adult human body and there are 300 in children. As children grow some of the bones fuse or join together.

Wise quote

"I can remember what flavor of ice cream cone my grandmother and I shared at DisneyWorld; but most of the time, I can't remember what day it is. I guess it depends on what you think is important." — Unknown
